That the world may know HIM!

To the Wonderful Body at Colebrookdale,

How did your first Wednesday of prayer and fasting go? I know it was a few rough hours for me with a headache, but the Lord stirred within me a heart for Him. I prayed earnestly for everyone of you. I do not know your individual needs currently, but God does. I do know much of our body is not sure what tomorrow will bring. I want to thank each one that has called me to let me know you were fasting with me, you were a great encouragement!

Enclosed is a DVD that I made up for the service Sunday morning March 29th. I must apologize for the lack of professionalism in its presentation. I honestly never tried to mass produce a video before, I spent hours learning, and the final result was less than perfect. I do think I can make improvements over the next few weeks (I hope not, but days are uncertain). I thank Rebecca Misiura for her playing the piano, Tammy for shooting the video, and Raimer for running the sound and duplicating the discs. The words to the music don't exactly line up, but the whole idea is to be a blessing, and I hope that much will be accomplished. It truly was a labor of love.

For you that have a computer at home, the sermon will be available on Youtube. A link will be sent to those of you who have emails on file.

The message is from 2 Timothy 1:1-7, and I entitled it the No Fear Factor. Please watch it with your family on Sunday morning.

There are still many questions that are left unanswered for the coming days. There are also many new ways we can minister to our community when this is finished. Hurting hearts always need helping hands, and our church body can be at the forefront in Colebrookdale of doing just that, may God point us to the hurting!

I am praying for you!
